

Economy of Communion Paris Summer School August 26th to 31st 2014

A new economy for a fairer world:

In today's world, globalization presents significant challenges such as hunger, inequality, unemployment, forced migration... All these situations make us wonder if the economy can change.

Economy of Communion offers a new perspective facing these challenges with a new culture, a culture of giving. That introduces fraternity, social bonds, sustainability and communion.

If you want to get involved in these changes, we invite you to join us!

Objectives:

- Introduce a different kind of thinking, challenging the traditional economic trends, and the inclusion of the poor in the economy.
- Get deeper into the Economy of Communion project : the guidelines of the companies, the decision making process and the relationship with employees, clients and suppliers.

- Share ideas, concepts, experiences with scholars, entrepreneurs and other young people from all over the world creating new relationships and projects.

Among the lecturers:

Luigino Bruni (Università LUMSA, Rome, Italy)

Benedetto Gui (Università di Padova, Italy)

Anouk Grevin (Université de Nantes, France)

Vittorio Pelligra (Università di Cagliari, Italy)

Lecturers are from the University Institute Sophia, Italy

EoC Entrepreneurs from France, US, Philippines...

Some topics of the lectures :

The idea of entrepreneur in the EoC, The role of incentives in human resource management, Growth/degrowth, conventional/relational goods and happiness , "The spirits" of capitalism, Trust as a common good, Dialogue as a management practice ...

Every day: International working groups

- Entrepreneurship workshop:
Work on a business plan and help an EoC business to be started.
You have a project of entrepreneurship? Submit your project and receive the help of EoC entrepreneurs and the contribution of young professionals of all over the world working with you on your business plan. Best projects could eventually be funded if carried out.
- Research workshop:
Share your research with EoC University professors and young scholars.
You are a scholar or preparing a PhD and your research is linked to EoC values? Submit a paper to present in a research session.

- Communication workshop:
Contribute creatively to the communication on EOC and on the Summer School (articles, photos, videos, interviews, to post on the net...)
You have talents or skill that you are ready to share for the EOC project? Send us proposals.
